Tax Reformers Gain This End by Holding Public Hearings All Over State ..

STILL INVITING SUGGESTIONS

Individual Members Have Held Conferences With Representative Men Throughout Virginia-All Deliberations Have Been Open.

Tax Commission, stated yesterday that substantial results have been obtained through the public hearings held in the last two months, but the body is still inviting suggestions that will aid in the working out of the scheme for an equalization of the tax burden.

Individual members of the commission have held conferences with large numbers of representative men in all parts of Virginia, men intimately acquainted with the condition and the sentiment of the different sections and interests with which they are connected. In addition, the commission has as a body visited those regions where the occupations are specialized, and differ in character from the occupations that are more or less Statewide. On the whole, many thousands of citizens have thus been heard from.
